

Our school aims and values.

We aim to educate every child to achieve the best they can possibly be.
We aim to show every child what it means to be a good person.
We aim to improve every child's academic and emotional well-being.
We aim that every child is safe and feels safe.

Our values are expressed in the following statements:

We will act with transparency and integrity.

We put the child at the centre of what we do. "Child-centred-ness"

We take a developmental approach, in terms of children but also staff, for example by monitoring progress in a non-judgemental manner.

We are pro-active, dealing with issues as we see them, and trying to prevent.

The headteacher and leaders in the school understand the principle of stewardship.

With other schools, we aim to support, collaborate, co-operate and help.

The 2014 national curriculum value statement is:

Values

The curriculum should reflect values in our society that promote personal development, equality of opportunity, economic wellbeing, a healthy and just democracy, and a sustainable future.

These values should relate to:

- ourselves, as individuals capable of spiritual, moral, social, intellectual and physical growth and development
- our relationships, as fundamental to the development and fulfilment of happy and healthy lives, and to the
- good of the community
- our society, which is shaped by the contributions of a diverse range of people, cultures and heritages
- our environment, as the basis of life and a source of wonder and inspiration that needs to be protected.
